DECLARATION OF JOEL TOMINEY IN SUPPORT OF OPPOSER BACH FLOWER REMEDIES LIMITED'S OPPOSITION TO THE SUMMARY JUDGMENT MOTION OF APPLICANT

- I, Joel Tominey declare as follows:
- I am the Commercial Manager of A Nelson & Co Limited of Nelsons

 House, 83 Parkside, Wimbledon, London SW19 5LP, United Kingdom

 ("Nelsons"). I am submitting this declaration in support of Bach Flower Remedies

 Limited's Opposition to the Summary Judgment Motion of Applicant, Absolutely

 Natural, Inc.
- 2. Nelsons is the parent of Bach Flower Remedies Limited. Bach Flower Remedies Limited ("Bach") is a wholly owned subsidiary of A Nelson & Co Limited. Nelson-Bach USA and Bach Flower Essences are wholly-owned subsidiaries of Nelsons, located in North Andover, Massachusetts, which distribute Bach's products in the United States.

- 3. My past work experience includes working as a paralegal for Blake-Turner & Co Solicitors in London, where I also went on to train and qualify as a Solicitor in January 2009.
- 4. Since my appointment as Commercial Manager at Nelsons in July 2009, my current job responsibilities include management of Nelsons intellectual property portfolio, the provision of legal advice across all departments, general company secretarial duties, overseeing the company's insurance requirements and administration of the Nelsons property portfolio.
- 5. Nelsons is a leader in natural healthcare products. It has been supplying natural healthcare products to the general public for over 150 years. It was founded in 1860 and originally traded as Armbrecht, Nelson & Co., which was later abbreviated to A Nelson & Co. It is an independent, family-owned business.
- 6. In the 1930's, Dr. Edward Bach, a physician, bacteriologist, homeopath and researcher contacted Nelson's Homeopathic Pharmacy in London for help with bottling and distributing his preparations made from flower essences. Dr. Bach developed his system of treatments made from flower essences based on the theory that health conditions were manifestations of emotional imbalance such that treating emotional health might influence physical health. The term "RESCUE REMEDY" was chosen by Dr. Bach in the 1930's for his emergency composite formula.
- 7. Bach Flower Remedies Limited is a Private Limited Company organized under the laws of England and Wales. Since at least as early as 1951,

Bach Flower Remedies Limited, through its predecessors in interest and related companies, began manufacturing and selling flower essence preparations for relieving emotional and mental stress in an oral form (e.g., in a dropper bottle) that were formulated by Dr. Bach, under the trademark RESCUE REMEDY. Bach has been continuously engaged in the manufacture and sale of its RESCUE REMEDY products since then and its products are promoted and sold in over 70 countries, including the United States.

- 8. In approximately 1961, Bach started to sell its RESCUE REMEDY products in an oral (dropper) form in the United States. It has continuously sold these products in the U.S. to date.
- 9. In approximately September 1979, Bach expanded its RESCUE REMEDY trademarked product line to include an herbal beverage made from essences extracted from flowers for natural stress relief. It sold these RESCUE REMEDY products in the U.S. beginning in September 1979 and has continuously sold them in the U.S. to date.
- 10. In about August 1995, Bach extended its product line and delivery methods to include skin cream to soothe, moisturize and heal irritated or damaged skin. It marketed that product under the trademark RESCUE CREAM and has continuously sold its skin cream in the U.S. from August 1995 to date under the mark RESCUE CREAM and, continuously since at least as early as January 2001, also under the mark RESCUE.
- 11. Since at least as early January 2001, Bach began using the mark RESCUE alone in connection with its oral stress-relief preparations and its topical skin cream. It has continuously sold these products in the U.S. under the RESCUE mark from at least January 2001 to date.

- 12. Beginning in approximately May 2006, Bach has been expanding its RESCUE and RESCUE REMEDY topical and oral product lines promoted and sold in the United States and other countries.
- 13. In March 2009 in the U.S., Bach began selling RESCUE Gel to soothe muscle aches and pain and in April 2009 in the U.S., Bach began selling RESCUE Balm to moisturize and protect the lips. Bach has continuously sold these products in the U.S. under the RESCUE mark from March and April 2009, respectively, to date.
- 14. In May 2006, Bach began selling RESCUE Sleep natural sleeping aid in spray form and in 2010 in capsule form in the U.S. In March 2009, Bach began selling RESCUE Energy natural fatigue remedy in the U.S. Bach also began offering its original natural stress relief RESCUE product in other forms in the U.S., including spray (March 2002 (20ml) and September 2005 (7ml)) sold under the marks RESCUE and RESCUE REMEDY; pastilles (March 2007 orange/elderflower) and March 2008 (black currant)) sold under the mark RESCUE Pastilles; and gum (2010) sold under the mark RESCUE Gum. Bach has continuously sold all of the above products in the U.S. under the RESCUE and/or RESCUE REMEDY marks since the dates mentioned above.
- 15. Since at least as early as January 2001, Bach has been selling all of its products throughout the United States flower essence remedies and topical skin care preparations in packaging which prominently displays the mark

RESCUE alone (hereafter collectively "RESCUE products"). The mark RESCUE is displayed in bold block letters on the left side of the front panels of the packaging. Current examples of such packaging for Bach's RESCUE products bearing the RESCUE mark are annexed hereto as Exhibit 1.

- 16. Based on my work experience, I am very familiar with the Bach marks RESCUE, RESCUE CREAM and RESCUE REMEDY ("RESCUE marks"), the products in connection with which the RESCUE marks are used and the manner in which the marks are used on packaging and promotional materials for the products as well as the trade channels and customers for those products in the United States and elsewhere.
- identified by Bach's RESCUE Marks in the United States are attached as Exhibit 2 (BF 00063-205). In particular, Exhibit 2 shows packaging, containers and/or package inserts for the following Bach RESCUE products: RESCUE CREAM (BF 00063-64; 00190-205); RESCUE Balm (BF 00076-85); RESCUE Gel (BF 00141-148); RESCUE REMEDY (dropper bottle form) (BF 00149-159; 00168-177); RESCUE REMEDY (spray form) (BF 00094-99; 00132-140); RESCUE REMEDY (for children) (BF 00068-71; 00086-93); RESCUE REMEDY (for animals) (BF 00072-75; 00106-115); RESCUE Sleep (spray form) (BF 00065-67; 124-131; 182-185); RESCUE Sleep (capsule form) (BF 00100-105); RESCUE Energy (BF 00116-123; 00160-167); RESCUE Gum (BF 00178-181); and RESCUE Pastilles (BF 00186-89). Each of these items prominently bears the mark RESCUE, alone or in combination with other words such as "Cream,"

- "Balm," "Gel," "Remedy", "Sleep," "Energy," "Gum," "Pastilles" or the like. In addition, as mentioned in paragraph 16 above, each of these items also prominently bears the mark RESCUE in bold block letters on the left side of the front panels of containers and packaging.
- 18. I also am familiar with the registrations of Bach's marks RESCUE, RESCUE CREAM and RESCUE REMEDY and the application to register the mark RESCUE in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, including Reg. Nos. 3,147,761 (RESCUE CREAM), 2,517,685 (RESCUE), 1,822,260 (RESCUE REMEDY), 1,237,564 (RESCUE REMEDY) and Application Serial No. 77/485,289 (RESCUE). Copies of printouts from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office database showing the status and title of these registrations and applications (Exhibit A to the Notice of Opposition) are attached hereto as Exhibit 3.
- describe the marks which Bach has applied for and registered in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, the goods for which the marks are in use or are intended for use and the dates of first use of the marks in connection therewith. With regard to Application Serial No. 77/485,289 for the mark RESCUE, which was filed on May 28, 2008, I am aware that Bach has used the mark on some of the goods covered by that intent-to-use application, including "skin creams" and "lip balms" in Class 3, among others, and has a bona fide intention to use the mark RESCUE for all of the goods included in that application, and that the filing date will be considered to be the constructive date of first use of the mark once the registration issues.

- 20. I am familiar with the marketing and promotional materials for the various products sold by Bach under its mark RESCUE, as well as those sold under the additional marks RESCUE CREAM and RESCUE REMEDY, which are distributed in the U.S. and in other countries.
- 21. I am familiar with the marketing, advertising and production of the advertisements and promotional materials for Bach's RESCUE products in the United States, including the Nelsons website(s) http://www.nelsonsnaturalworld.com/en-us/us/ and http://www.nelsonsnaturalworld.com/en-us/us/our-brands/rescue-remedy/ which promote, display and offer Bach's RESCUE mark and RESCUE products for purchase.

- 22. Examples of printouts pages from the Bach websites are attached as Exhibit 4 (BF 00215-277). Based upon my personal knowledge, the documents in Exhibit 4 accurately provide information about, inter alia, the history of Bach, the type of products identified by Bach's RESCUE Marks in the United States, where to buy Bach's RESCUE products and FAQ's about Bach's RESCUE products. These are documents that are created and maintained in the ordinary course of business by Bach.
- 23. Bach has used a website or websites to promote its RESCUE and related information in the U.S. since approximately 2001.

- 24. Bach also promotes its RESCUE products using social media such as Facebook. Printouts from portions of the Bach Rescue Remedy Facebook site bearing the date January 20, 2012 and the URL http://www.facebook.com/RescueRemedy are attached hereto as Exhibit 5 (BF 00206-214).
- 25. Third-party online distributors/retailers also display Bach RESCUE products. Web page printouts from some of these websites showing, inter alia, Bach's RESCUE CREAM product and/or its packaging are shown in Exhibit 6. In particular, Exhibit 6 comprises printouts from the following websites all printed on October 19, 2011: www.bachflower.com (BF 00278-280), www.google.com (product search page)(BF 00281); www.swansonvitamins.com (BF 00285-286); www.vitacost.com (BF 00287-288); and www.taoofherbs.com (BF 000289).
- 26. Bach also promotes its products with giveaways and other promotional items on which its RESCUE marks are displayed. Examples are attached hereto as Exhibit 7 (BF 00052-62). Based upon my personal knowledge, Exhibit 7 shows the following types of materials: a tote bag (bearing RESCUE REMEDY); a squeeze stress ball (bearing RESCUE REMEDY); a decal (bearing RESCUE REMEDY); a brochure (bearing, inter alia, RESCUE CREAM and RESCUE REMEDY (original and for kids and pets), RESCUE Pastilles, RESCUE Gum and RESCUE Sleep; a point of sale item (bearing RESCUE REMEDY); and a handkerchief, balloon, leash and brochure (bearing RESCUE REMEDY) (for pets)).
 - 27. Bach also promotes its RESCUE products through advertisements in consumer magazines such as Women's Health, SHAPE, Whole Living, Cooking Light, Taste for Life. Examples of advertisements featuring the RESCUE products in the United States are attached as Exhibit 8 (BF0001-29; 00044-45). Bach also advertises its RESCUE products in the United States in radio advertisements. Bach has advertised its RESCUE products in consumer publications in the U.S. since September 1985 (Yoga Journal) and on the radio since 2005.

28. Bach has invested a substantial amount of money in marketing and promoting its RESCUE branded products. Attached hereto as Confidential Exhibit 9 (BF 000502 TRADE SECRET) is a summary of Bach's marketing investment for the RESCUE brand entitled

The information in this exhibit was generated from Bach's internal records and was created and maintained in the ordinary course of business. Exhibit 9 shows that in 2004, Bach spent on marketing; in 2005, it spent: on marketing and on media; in 2006, it spent on marketing and on media; in 2007 it spent on marketing on media; in 2008 it spent and on marketing and on media; in 2009 it spent on marketing and on media; in 2010 it spent on marketing and on media; and in 2011 it on marketing and spent on media.

29. Bach's also organizes and provides an extensive educational program on its products, including the RESCUE products, in the U.S. and elsewhere. The educational program (known as the Bach International Educational Program or "BIEP") was developed and offered in the U.S. and other countries in 1994 as a valuable marketing tool to promote the Bach range of products, including the RESCUE product line with the aim to increase awareness of the products and thereby increase sales to all types of customers, including retailers, health professionals and members of the public. The program has been very successful and courses are offered at locations around the country as well as online. Attached as Exhibit 10 (BF 00601-607) are illustrative pages from the website www.nelsonsnaturalworld.com which list the upcoming classes at various training levels which are available in the U.S.

- 30. As part of my duties and responsibilities, I have access to the sales records of products sold by Bach in the United States under its RESCUE Marks, which are held within the accounts department of Nelsons.
- 31. The price range for Bach's RESCUE products in the United States is about $5.95 $20.95 per unit. Attached hereto is Confidential Exhibit 11 (BF 000501 TRADE SECRET), which is a true and correct copy of a list of suggested retail prices for Bach's RESCUE products in the U.S. On the whole (although some more health conscious consumers may devote more time to their purchasing decisions), the purchasing environment for Bach's RESCUE products is not particularly sophisticated. The products are relatively inexpensive and available at a number of retail stores such that consumers may not exercise a high degree of care in making their purchases.
- 32. Bach's RESCUE products have been extremely successful worldwide and in the U.S. Attached hereto as Confidential Exhibit 12 (BF

00291R-294 TRADE SECRET) is a document titled

; and is followed by an eight page document of the same title (TRADE SECRET). These documents provide volume and revenue information at a summary level and by individual product for Bach's RESCUE branded products for sale in the U.S. The information in Exhibit 12 was generated from Bach's internal records and was created and maintained in the ordinary course of business.

33. Confidential Exhibit 12 shows that sales of Bach's RESCUE products in the United States alone amounted to a volume of units and in 2001; a volume of revenue of units and revenue of in 2002; a volume of units and revenue of in 2003; a volume of units and revenue of in 2004; a volume of and revenue of in 2005; a volume of units and revenue of in 2006; a volume of units and revenue of in 2007; a volume of units and revenue of in 2008: a volume of units and revenue of in 2009; volume of units and revenue of in 2010; and a volume of units and revenue of: in 2011.

34. Bach currently offers to sell and sells its RESCUE products throughout the United States. This has been true from the outset of Bach's sales in the U.S. Bach has never limited the sales of its RESCUE products to any particular state(s) in the United States.

- 35. Bach does not limit the sale of RESCUE products to any particular trade channel(s) or customer(s). Bach sells and distributes its RESCUE products through a variety of retail trade channels including health food stores (i.e., Sprouts, Earth Fare), supermarket/grocery stores (i.e., Hannaford, Shaws, Meijer, Wegman's, Whole Foods), drug stores (i.e., CVS), clothing and accessory retailers (i.e., TJ Maxx), independent pet specialty stores as well as through third-party authorized and independent online stores and its own online store at www.nelsonsstore.com. Bach's customers for its RESCUE products include retailers, health professionals and members of the general public.
- 36. A list of Bach's U.S. distributors is attached as Confidential

 Exhibit 13 (BF 00295–348 TRADE SECRET). A document entitled showing information pertaining to Bach's customers who purchase RESCUE products directly from is attached as Confidential Exhibit 14 (BF 00349-500 TRADE SECRET). The information in these exhibits was generated from Bach's internal records and was created and maintained in the ordinary course of business.

- 37. Bach's RESCUE products (including those identified in paragraphs 9-16 above) are sold in the same channels of trade as other non-prescription skin creams, balms, gels, sprays or lotions that treat sunburn, prevent sunburn or otherwise soothe dry, chapped or irritated skin or lips.
- 38. The end users of Bach's RESCUE products in the United States include people of all ages and their pets.

- 39. The potential customers for Bach RESCUE products in the United States are not limited to any particular type of person.
- 40. As the result of long, substantial and continuous use and promotion of the RESCUE products in the U.S. and elsewhere, Bach has achieved a widespread and favorable reputation and is well known and recognized for its oral and topical flower essence preparations promoted and sold under the RESCUE marks.
- 41. The RESCUE marks and products were well known in the U.S. and elsewhere prior to the filing of the opposed Application Serial No. 85/111,156 to register the mark SUNBURN RESCUE on August 19, 2010.
- 42. Bach's RESCUE marks are extremely valuable property and the company has a strict policy of enforcing those marks in order to protect the public from confusion as to the source of third-party products or association between such third parties and to protect and maintain the strength of the RESCUE marks.
- 43. I have personal knowledge of Bach's efforts to monitor, police and enforce the use and/or attempted registration of confusingly similar RESCUE marks by third parties for goods related to Bach's RESCUE products. The publication of potentially confusing marks is monitored by a worldwide watch service. It was through that watch service that Bach became aware of the publication of the opposed application to register the mark SUNBURN RESCUE.

- 44. As part of my duties and responsibilities in my current or past positions with the company, I am familiar with and am actively involved in efforts to enforce Bach's rights in the RESCUE marks in the U.S. and elsewhere.
- 45. In the U.S., Bach has obtained extensions of time and/or filed oppositions with the Patent and Trademark Office Trademark Trial and Appeal Board against third-party marks which it considered to be confusingly similar to its RESCUE marks and products. Examples include the following: RADIATION RESCUE (Ser. Nos. 85301189 and 85301189); ORGANIC RESCUE (Ser. No. 77878478); RESQWATER (Ser. No. 85000963); RESQNOL (Ser. No. 85034744); RESQGEL (Ser. No. 85034747); AQUA RESCUE (Ser. No. 77934593); IMMPOWER RESCUE (Ser. No. 77749701); RESCUE ME (Ser. No. 77915828); RES-Q PRO (Ser. No. 77931682); ZHENA'S MOOD RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961083); ZHENA'S DETOX RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961104); ZHENA'S HAIR AND NAIL RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961149); ZHENA'S SKIN RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961163); ZHENA'S WEIGHT RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961180); ZHENA'S WRINKLE RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961260); ZHENA'S YOUTH RESCUE (Ser. No. 77961270); RESCUE (Ser. No. 77717046); BIO-RESCUE (Ser. No. 77477400); RESCUE BOTTLE (Ser. No. 77720243); LEAN-RESCUE (Ser. No. 77665871); RESCUE (Ser. No. 77082820); BACK RESCUE (Ser. No. 78363962); JOINT RESCUE (Ser. No. 78363834); ULCER RESCUE (Ser. No. 78406993); SHINGLES RESCUE (Ser. No. 78340080); TRAVEL RESCUE (Ser. No. 78340099); SCIATIC RESCUE (Ser. No. 78384272); ARTHRITIS RESCUE (Ser. No. 78384289); ARTHRITIS RESCUE (Ser. No. 78384289); MUSCLE RESCUE

(Ser. No. 78363935); RASH RESCUE (Ser. No. 78387405); EMOTIONAL RESCUE (Ser. No. 78226962); SLEEP RESCUE (Ser. No. 78096771); and VOCAL RESCUE (Ser. No. 74236757).

- 46. A summary of proceeding information and printouts from the USPTO database regarding these matters is attached hereto as Exhibit 15. Some of the opposition proceedings have been amicably resolved by agreement, sometimes involving withdrawal of the opposed application or amendment of the mark or restriction of goods in order to avoid potential confusion. In other cases, the opposed application has been abandoned as the result of default, while other cases are ongoing.
- 47. A true and correct copy of the notice of opposition for the Subject Mark filed in this case is attached as Exhibit 16. I have reviewed this document and believe that the statements made in the notice of opposition are accurate
- 48. I believe that the Applicant's use of the mark SUNBURN RESCUE for the goods and services covered by Serial No. 85/111,156 is likely to confuse customers as to the source of those goods and services and/or as to the association or affiliation between Bach and the Applicant. This is because the marks RESCUE and SUNBURN RESCUE are virtually identical the Applicant merely added the descriptive word "SUNBURN" to the well known Bach RESCUE mark and proposes to use the mark in connection with similar and commercially related skin care lotions, creams, balms, gels and the like which will or can be sold through the same or similar trade channels in the same commercial outlets to the same customers.

- 49. I have no reason to believe that Bach's RESCUE products and particularly its RESCUE Cream and RESCUE Balm products would not be useful to soothe or provide relief from sun exposure or sunburn. In fact, the RESCUE Cream product is intended to be used to moisturize, soothe and heal irritated or damaged skin.
- 50. For the above reasons, I believe that Bach would be damaged by registration of the opposed mark SUNBURN RESCUE.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information and belief.

RESCUE

Rescue Cream is an intensive moisturizer designed to soothe dry, irritated, or damaged skin caused by the stresses and strains of everyday life. As a well-known indicator of how the body feels inside, our skin is often the first place where you see the effects of a demanding, busy life. This can lead to dry, rough, uneven, dull looking skin.

With regular use, Rescue Cream effectively repairs and helps protect the skin against environmental influences and other stress factors. Rescue Cream is a combination of the famous flower essence Rescue Remedy developed by Dr. Bach, and the Original Bach Flower Remedy Crab Apple, which offers both cleansing and emotional support of appearance.

Gentle, safe, and suitable for the whole family, Rescue Cream is non-greasy, fragrance-free, paraben-free, lanolin-free, and not tested on animals.

RESCUE® Remedy and the system of 38 Bach® Original Flower Remedies were developed by Dr Edward Bach. Hartey Street doctor in the 1920s and 30s.

Dr Bach was a well known Physician, Bacteriologist, Homeopath and Researcher and operated a successful practice mitings 31.1 andon. Despite the access of his work in conventional medicine he fall dissatisfied with the way apologic todased on the disease white ignoring the person who was suffering

He was inspired by his work with homeopathy but wanted to find remedies that would be purer and less reliant on the symptoms of a disease. So in 1930 he gave up his lucrative Harley St practice and left London dedicating the rest of his life to researching nature to develop a new system of medicine.

Dr. Bach believed that attitude and mental state play a vital role in maintaining health and recovering from illnesses. Over the following years he researched and identified 38 negative states of mind and a corresponding flower or plant remedy for each one

Wanting to make his remedies more available to the general public in the 1930s Dr Bach entisted the help of the Nelsons Homeopathic Pharmacy in Duke St. London. Under his guidance they began to make and sell the remedies from the Mother Tinctures he supplied them, to 1990 this relationship was formalised and since then Nelsons (the Neitrons Homeopathic Pharmacy's parent company) has been responsible for bottling and distributing RESCUE® Remedy

To say Nelsons produce millions of bottles of RESCUE® Remedy each year in Wimpledon, London and they are cold in over 70 countries around the world.

The flower remedies (Mother Tinctures) used in RESCUE Remedy@are still made at the Bach Centre in Mount Vernon, Oxfordstate, England using the method: Jeveloped by Di Bach over 70 years ago. They are then sent to distactory in Wimbledon, London where they are direted with brancy (legally declared as 27% grape alcohol) and bottled in a licensed manufacturing facility to the nighest quality standard

There are 3 key steps involved in manufacturing RESCUE Remedy®

Step 1

The five Mother Tinctures are made from plant material or flower heads and natural spring water using either the Sun or Boiling methods as laid out by Dr Bach. The sun method is used to make the remedies derived from the most delicate flowers that bloom in the height of summer. The boiling method is used for the remedies from trees, bushes and plants most of which flower in the early part of the year

Step 2

The flowers are removed from the potentised water which is then filtered and mixed with an equal part of 40% brandy, this makes the Molner Tincture. The brandy acts purely as a preservative and is a non

The Mother Tindtures are sent from Oxfordshire to Nelsons' bottling plant in London. Here the Mother Tincture is diluted with 27% grape alcohol (the legal name for brandy at this strength) to produce the finished product you buy at the shops.

De-stress yourself to a good night's sleep

What is sleep?

Steep takes up around a third of our life and is our body's most vital need after breathing and drinking. As a result our wellbeing relies heavily on a good night's sleep and without it our body is unable to perform its routine maintenance. regenerate itself and repair damage from the day.

Flow much sleep does the body need?

The amount of sleep the body requires varies by individual and can depend on your age. Some adults require as little as 6 fours sleep to wake up retreshed while others need to sleep for up to 9 hours for their brain and body to function property However, research typically suggests that 7 hours of sleep a night is a good average

The Steep Cycle

Sleep consists of 5 phases which last from 90 to 110 minutes each.

- Phase 1 Your eye and body movements slow down and your body enters into a light sleep phase. During that time you can be woken up easily
- Phase 2 The eye movement stops and your brain waves (a measure of the activity level of the brain) become slower
- Phase 3 Your body enters its first phase of deep sleep and it might be very difficult to wake you up.
- Phase 4 The body enters its second stage of deep sleep and it might also be difficult to wake you up
- Phase 5 Also called Rapid Eye Movement, that's when dreams take over!

The key to waking up refreshed and energized in the morning is to ensure that both deep sleep stages are uninterrupted. It is when your body is frequently deprived of those essential deep sleep phases, that you may start experiencing health problems associated with fatigue

Car perpendes of Poor Sleed

- * Feeling tired all day with a lack of energy
- * Finding it hard to concentrate and cope with daily pressures
- * Inattentiveness
- Stress and worry
- * Irritability and tension
- * Difficulty in making decisions
- * Slow reactions to traffic lights. This causes many accidents on the road each year!
- ' Forgetfulness

"The main reason for sleep problems is that we can only rest if we have fulfilled all our needs for the day. When this is not so, the body is unable to let go, so we do not get to the deepest period of sleep We only sleep in a forced, stressed and anxious way."

- Skin is thickest on the palms and soles at up to 4 mm thick, and thinnest on the lips and around the eyes at just a fraction of a millimetre thick.
- Every 24 hours, the skin sheds a layer of dead cells, constantly renewing around every 28 days. An average

- Stress is hard on the skin. Low-level tensing of facial muscles works to create an aged appearance.
- Sun damage is thought to be responsible for 80% of skin aging. Without sun damage, we would probably not develop wrinkles until we were in our 80s.

Looking after your skin

Our skin has an amazing ability to balance and heal itself and it responds constantly to changes in our internal and external environments. Drinking plenty of water, eating a healthy, balanced diet and managing daily stresses will help keep your skin nourished and cared for. However, sometimes it needs some help along the way such as extra SPF protection. Skin may also get thrown out of balance by illness or outside pressures. At these times an intensive moisturiser suitable for sensitive skin, such as RESCUE® Cream can help restore your skin to its natural condition.

- Raised hormone levels due to stress can induce b'emishesin some people.
- Stress can cause muscles to tense contributing to the formation of facial lines and wrinkles
- Reduced or restricted circulation impairs the transport of oxygen and nutrients to the skin
- If the immune system is lowered by stress it can leave the skin more susceptible to infection

Our skin is often the first place to show the effects of a demanding busy life.

Welcome to the world of Bach Original Flower Remedies Being yourself means being relaxed, fulfilled and natural

How the Remedies are Made

Preparing the Bach® Original Flower Remedies Mother Tinetures is a three step process.

Step One: Mother Tinctures are prepared from plant material, flower heads and natural spring water using either the Sun or Boiling Method as defined by Dr. Bach in the 1930s. There are two methods of preparing the Mother Tinctures:

The Sun Method

Dr. Bach used this method to make 20 of the remedies, most of which are delicate flowers and bloom in the height of summer. Flower heads are floated on water in a glass bowl and left in full sunlight for three hours. On a busy remedy-making day, there might be as many as six or seven bowls in the sun. Some of the flowers are only in bloom for a day or two, so timing is crucial.

The Boiling Method

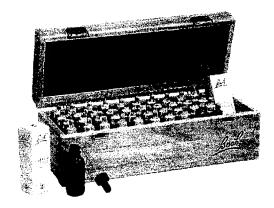

Dr. Bach used this method to prepare the remaining 18 remedies, from trees, bushes and plants, most of which flower in the early part of the year. These are picked, boiled in a saucepan and left in the pan to cool outdoors.

Step Two: The flowers are removed from the potentised water, which is then filtered and mixed with an equal part of 40% proof brandy, this makes the Mother Tineture. The brandy acts purely as a preservative for the remedy and is non-active ingredient.

Step Three: The Mother Tinctures arrive at the Nelsons bottling plant in Wimbledon, South London. To make the individual stock bottles you buy in shops, the Mother Tincture is added to 27% grape alcohol. The stock bottles are then packed up, sealed for safety and quality and dispatched to stores and countries around the world.

Did you know?

Every single bottle of Bach Original Flower Remedies around the world originates from the UK, so you can be assured that it has been made according to Dr. Bach's guidelines. Just look for the Bach signature.

🕮 Change

The History of Bach® Original Flower Remedies

Bach Original Flower Remedies were developed by Dr. Edward Bach, a Harley Street doctor and well known Physician, Bacteriologist, Homeopath and Researcher in the U.K. Despite the success of his work with orthodox medicine, he felt dissatisfied with the way doctors were expected to concentrate on diseases and ignore the people who were suffering from them. He was inspired by his work with homeopathy but wanted to find remedies that would be purer and less reliant on the products of disease. So in 1930, he gave up his lucrative Harley Street practice and left London, determined to devote the rest of his life to a new system of medicine that he was sure could be found in nature.

Dr. Bach believed that attitude of mind plays a vital role in maintaining health and recovering from illness and wanted to find something that treated the cause rather than the symptom. After identifying 38 basic negative states of mind and spending several years exploring the countryside, he managed to create a plant or flower based remedy for each one.

In 1934, he decided to settle down and create a center for his work, and chose Mount Vernon, a small cottage in Sorwell, Oxfordshire, England.

He spent the last years of his life at Mount Vernon, now also known as the Bach Centre, and it was here that he completed his research.

"Our work is to steadfastly adhere to the simplicity and purity of this method of healing" - Dr. Edward Bach

Over seventy years after his death, the guiding principle of 'simplicity and purity in the method' remains paramount for all those who work preparing and distributing the remedies. Known around the world, they are still made to his exact specifications at his home, Mount Vernon, in Oxfordshire. England.

The continuation of Dr. Bach's work in this way has been enabled by the friends and colleagues he trained and to whom he entrusted full responsibility to adhere to his exact methods of preparation. As principal of the Bach Centre, it is Judy Ramsell Howard's role to ensure that the preparation of the flower essences never strays from Dr. Bach's original methods. She says, "Many of the plants we use come from sites originally identified by Dr. Bach himself and we still make the remedies just as they were made in Dr. Bach's day. The method has been passed down lovingly through the generations. He taught his assistants who taught my aunt and father, who have in turn taught me, and we continue to make the remedies using all the love, care and attention to detail that has always gone into their preparation here at Mount Vernon."

Wanting to make his flower essences more available to the general public, Dr. Bach enlisted the help of Nelsons Homeopathic Pharmacy in London back in the 1930s. Under his instruction, they began to make and sell stock remedies from the mother tinctures he supplied. In 1990, this relationship was formalized, and since then Nelsons (the Pharmacy's parent company) has been responsible for all the bottling and distribution of the remedies.

Today. Nelsons produces millions of stock bottles each year from its warehouse facility in Wimbledon. London, and the Bach Original Flower Remedies are sold in over 70 countries around the world.

The Bach Original Flower Remedies are used by individuals and respected medical and complementary health practitioners alike. To make sure that you have a genuine Bach Original Flower Remedy, just look for the Bach signature on the bottle. This guarantees a Bach Original Flower Remedy just like Dr. Bach himself used to make.

Pros: Effective

I use this cream on my feet before I go to sleep, it works great on rough spots and since it's a Bach Flower Remedy it works real good on sore, tired feet as well.

* By Anonymous - Mar 3, 2008 - drugstore.com

This is great stuff; it calms my irritated skin as well if not better than the OTC cortisone cream and a lot better than the prescription steroid cream. Only downside is the price, however a little goes a long way and it is cheaper than a co-pay at the doctor. The price here is cheaper than our local "health" food store too.

My 10 year old has eczema all over his back, insides of arms/legs. Lots of prescriptions for oral/topical meds; nothing worked. Tried this on a whim: after one night's use the affected areas were reduced significantly. I wa amazed, truly. No fragrance, doesn't sting, isn't messy. I will be buying this in bulk.
